AGTA Improving Lives in Jaipur - Silicosis Abatement Project Kicks Off:

Douglas Hucker will walk seminar attendees through the factory visits and discuss the challenges and opportunities revealed by this visit. After a year of preparations and planning, AGTA traveled to Jaipur, India to initiate a Silicosis Abatement Project. Working with World Health Without Borders and the Gem Hub, the AGTA measured the degree of airborne silica, surveyed the cutting techniques involved,

David Baker, AGTA Membership and Education Manager

Afternoon with the Associations - Sharing an Interesting Insight of the American Gem Trade Association:

AGTA Membership and Education Manager, David Baker, shares with you the American Gem Trade Associations' ethical standards and fair business practices. David discusses how AGTA is an important voice of the colored gemstone and cultured pearl industry. He presents why AGTA is a leader in bringing attention and action to industry social responsibility issues and how AGTA as a whole, and individual AGTA members, are making a difference every day in the world through various programs.

Richard Druker, President, Gemworld International

Market Trends and Industry Updates:

The gem industry has seen volatility in this past year. Some corundum prices are higher while others have dropped by as much as 20%. Rarity of some color has boosted prices in other gem varieties. An update of the latest trends and pricing will aid buyers for this year's trade show.
